Foreword

Guru Granth Sahib is the most distinctive scripture in several ways. It claims no exclusiveness, hence does not prescribe any proselytization. It is also distinctive in another sense that it preserves the original compositions of the Sikh Gurus and also embodies spiritual wisdom of over five centuries from the times of Bhagat Jaidev, Baba Sheikh Farid to those of martyrdom of the ninth Guru, Tegh Bahadur.

In his Introduction to the Sacred Writings of the Sikhs first published by UNESCO in 1960, Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, philosopher President of India, pays rich tribute to the sacred writings contained in Guru Granth Sahib which teach us how to transcend barriers created in the name of caste, religion and territorial boundaries. While emphasising relevance of Guru Granth Sahib in the emerging world order, Arnold Toynbee writes:

“Mankind’s religious future may be obscure. Yet one thing can be foreseen. The living higher religions are going to influence each other more than ever before in the days of increasing communication between all parts of the world and all branches of the human race. In this coming religious debate, the Sikh religion and its scripture, the Adi Granth, will have something of special value to say to the rest of the world.”

We are fortunate that we had the privilege of celebrating quadricentenary of the installation of Guru Granth Sahib in the Golden Temple in 2004. Four years later, in 2008, tercentenary of Gurgaddi Divas was celebrated at home and abroad. This has been the most significant period in recent Sikh history so far as the Sikh scripture is concerned. A National Level Committee was formed by the Government of India, with the Prime Minister of India, as its Chairman. On this occasion, Lectures, seminars and printing of books in different languages were arranged, to spread the essentially unifying message of Guru Granth Sahib.

Apart from celebrating functions in Darbar Sahib, Amritsar, and other historic places of the Sikh community, a International Seminar on ‘Guru Granth Sahib and its Context’ was arranged by Bhai Vir Singh Sahitya Sadan in the Vigyan Bhawan, New Delhi in 2005, which was inaugurated by Dr. Manmohan Singh, the Prime Minister of India, in which scholars from all over India and abroad participated. Proceedings of this seminar edited by this writer were published by the Sadan. The National Institute of Panjab Studies took up a major project of locating, photographing and conserving valuable tangible heritage of the Sikhs. Based on fieldwork and research, the Institute published eight pictorial books under the ‘Punjab Heritage Series’. The second project, ‘Locating, Cataloguing and Digitizing rare Guru Granth Sahib Birs’, was taken up by the Institute in connection with the tercentenary celebration of Gurgaddi Divas. With active support from like-minded institutions, and individuals, the Institute has been able to digitize more than 300 rare Guru Granth Sahib Manuscripts. The Institute is now publishing Shabad Guru : An Illustrated Catalogue of Guru Granth Sahib Birs in four volumes for which I congratulate Dr. Mohinder Singh and his team for the patience, perseverance and dedication.

SHABAD GURU

Government of India had set up the National Mission for Manuscripts under Ministry of Culture in the year 2003 for recovering, preserving, cataloguing and making available to scholars everywhere the wealth of knowledge which is contained in the precious manuscripts across India. Over the centuries, such knowledge has been passed on through different media like stone engravings, copper plate etchings, inscriptions on birch bark, palm leaves, parchments and paper made from different material. As part of its activities, the National Mission for Manuscripts provides funding to individuals, institutions, custodians and owner of manuscripts for documentation and preparing descriptive catalogues of manuscripts which are covered under distinct genres.

The Mission had sponsored a project of the National Institute of Punjab Studies for locating important manuscripts and preparing the descriptive catalogue of Guru Granth Sahib Birs, under the title "Shabad Guru".

The Guru Granth Sahib was compiled under the guidance of the fifth guru Arjan Dev with Bhai Gurdas acting as his amanuensis. In addition to the hymns of the Sikh gurus, it contains hymns of many sufi saints and bhakts like Jaidev, Kabir, Ravidas and others. A large number of manuscripts, including some very rare ones, such as the Kartarpuri Bir were prepared under the direct supervision of Guru Arjan Dev, while the Damdami Bir was prepared under the supervision of Guru Govind Singh and some copies with Mool Mantra were inscribed by the gurus themselves. However no comprehensive catalogue or any such account of the Guru Granth Sahib manuscripts was prepared or kept under the control of any central Sikh authority. As a result, with the passage of time some of the rare manuscripts became untraceable.

I am happy to mention that the National Institute of Punjab Studies had taken up the challenging task of preparing the descriptive catalogue of Guru Granth Sahib Birs and the third volume of the catalogue has now been completed. The catalogue contains historical details of the manuscripts along with illustrations of the Mool Mantra which are in the possession of a number of individuals and institutions.

I am convinced that this successful initiative of the National Mission for Manuscripts will add to the growing documented knowledge about India's rich cultural heritage. I whole heartedly felicitate the project team of the National Institute of Punjab Studies for their sincere and dedicated efforts which have resulted in the creation of this catalogue.

Introduction

While the Adi Granth was prepared by Guru Arjan Dev with Bhai Gurdas acting as its amanuensis, its origins can be traced to the days of Guru Nanak Dev. According to the popular accounts, upon his enlightenment after emergence from the rivulet Kali Bein, Guru Nanak Dev recited Mool Mantra, the primal creed of the Sikh religion. From the Puratan Janamsakhi, we learn that during his odysseys, Guru Nanak Dev got some of his companions enroute to scribe the hymns that he composed. Thus some of his devotees acted as scribes for recording the hymns. We learn that Majh ki Var and Sidh Gosht were scribed by Bhai Saiddo Gheeho, while Malar ki Var was scribed by Guru's devotees Hassu and Shihan. However, a systematic effort to locate, edit and include the hymns of the Gurus and other Bhaktas and Saints in one volume was made by Guru Arjan Dev, which came to be popularly known as Pothi (Sahib) and later (Adi) Granth. It came to be revered as Guru Granth Sahib upon its being declared the Guru Eternal by Guru Gobind Singh.

To emphasise the unity of humankind, Guru Nanak Dev laid great stress on reverence for Shabad which is manifestation of the Divine. Guru Nanak Dev composed Japji which describes the primal creed of the Sikh faith. At a time when the Indian society was divided because of barriers created in the name of caste and religion, Guru Nanak Dev gave a new message of hope by emphasising on the transcendental vision of the Ultimate. During his dialogue with the Sidhas he was asked, "Who is thy Guru, who thou art the follower?", the Guru replied, "The Word is the Guru and the mind (attuned to the Word) disciple". He described Shabad (Word) as revealed to him as the source which could unite the humanity. While Shabad has been defined in different traditions in different ways, in Sikh parlance it means Divine Word, revealed through hymns set to musical modes especially composed by the Gurus.

Growing popularity of the Sikh faith and gradual increase in the number of its followers led to the rival claimants to Guruship writing under the pen-name of Nanak and making all out efforts to popularize them. Therefore, it became important for Guru Arjan Dev to codify the genuine hymns and present them to the community of followers in an authenticated and authorized form. Since the bani of Guru Nanak Dev and his predecessors was available in the collection of Baba Mohan, popularly known as Mohan Pothian, Guru Arjan Dev sent Bhai Gurdas to obtain this collection for the Guru. However, Baba Mohan did not part with the pothis. Baba Buddha was therefore sent on the same mission, but the result was not different. Thereafter, Guru Arjan Dev himself went to Baba Mohan's house. While Baba Mohan was sitting in the attic of his house in Goindwal, the Guru sang melodious hymns from the ground floor. The humility of the Guru greatly moved Baba Mohan who happily agreed to pass the Pothis on to him.

Guru Arjan Dev also collected selections from the writings of Hindu and Muslim saints who were at the same spiritual wavelength as the Sikh Gurus. In this process, he was able to obtain hymns of Kabir, Farid, Namdev, Ravidas, Bhikhan and other saints, some of whom belonged to the so-called low castes.

To work on the volume, the Guru selected a serene spot in Ramsar, near Amritsar, and erected a tent which became his makeshift study for working on the Volume. When the Volume was completed, with Bhai Gurdas as its amanuensis, the Guru asked one of his devotees, Bhai Banno, to carry it to Lahore for binding. During the process of binding, Bhai Banno is believed to have made a copy of the scripture which came to be known as Banno Bir. The original Bir, which remained in the possession of Sodhi descendants of Dhir Mal, settled at Kartarpur (near Jalandhar in Panjab), came to be known as the Kartarpuri Bir.

The bound volume of the original Bir was taken from Ramsar to the newly built Harimandir Sahib in a procession with due respect and ceremonies befitting the installation. While Baba Buddha respectfully carried the Volume on his head, Guru Arjan Dev walked behind with a flywhisk as a mark of respect. They all marched barefoot and installed the Volume in the sanctum sanctorum of the Harimandir Sahib in August 1604.

Since printing or any other mode of making copies of the scripture was not available in those days, making handwritten copies of the Bir was considered an act of religious merit. Devotees spent months and years copying the Birs for the benefit of the congregation. However, a survey of some of the rare Guru Granth Sahib Birs pertaining to the 17th and 18th centuries shows that in spite of the Guru's disapproval of the Banno Bir, its copies were being made along-side those of the Kartarpuri Bir. As the Sodhis of Kartarpur refused to part with the original Volume called Kartarpuri Bir, Guru Gobind Singh, the tenth Guru, got another Bir prepared with Bhai Mani Singh as its amanuensis. As this was prepared at a place called Damdama it came to be popularly known as the Damdami Bir. Apart from the contents of Kartarpuri Bir, this Volume also included hymns of Guru Tegh Bahadur. Baba Deep Singh is believed to have prepared five copies of this Granth which were installed at what are now known as Panj Takhts, five seats of temporal authority of the Sikhs. It is this version of the Granth that provides the authentic text of the printed Guru Granth Sahib and consists of 1430 standard pages in addition to the index generally printed in one Volume by the Shiromani Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee, Amritsar. Before leaving for his heavenly abode in 1708 A.D. Guru Gobind Singh declared Granth Sahib as the Guru Eternal for the Sikhs.

As far as Guru Granth Sahib manuscripts are concerned, it has been an established practice of the scribes to compare their copies with the original Kartarpuri Bir, popularly called Vadda Granth (Big Book). It was believed that a Granth compared and corrected with the Vadda Granth becomes shudh (correct and acceptable). Those who did not have access to the original Granth in Kartarpur did so by comparing their copies with any other reliable copy of the Book. Different hand-written copies of the Guru Granth Sahib came to be associated with the names of their scribes or places where they were prepared. Thus, apart from Kartarpuri, Banno and Damdami Bir, we also have Bahawalwali Bir, Lahori Bir, Pushkar Bir and the Bir associated with Jagna Brahman, who is mentioned by Bhai Gurdas among prominent Sikhs who died fighting for Guru Hargobind in the battle of Amritsar. In his latest book, "A Study of Guru Granth Sahib: Doctrine, Social Content, History, Structure and Status", Prof. J. S. Grewal mentions about some rare Guru Granth Sahib Birs which pre-date the Kartarpuri Bir installed at the Harimandir Sahib, Amritsar, in 1604.

With the passage of time, hundreds of handwritten copies of the Guru Granth Sahib were prepared for installation in the Gurdwaras in different parts of India. With the rise of Sikhs to political power and establishment of Maharaja Ranjit Singh's rule in Punjab and patronage of eminent Pahari and Kashmiri artists and scribes, some of the most beautifully illustrated copies of the Guru Granth Sahib were created. We find many illuminated Birs with Islamic and Hindu influences available in different repositories. The Akal Takhat Sahib, Takhat Sri Kesgarh Sahib, Takhat Damdama Sahib, Takhat Patna Sahib, Takhat Sri Hazur Sahib, the Guru Nanak Dev University, the Punjabi University, Patiala, the National Museum, New Delhi, the Chief Khalsa Diwan, Amritsar, Bhai Vir Singh Sahitya Sadan, New Delhi, and some private families have a number of illuminated copies of Guru Granth Sahib manuscripts in their collections. The British Library, London, is also a rich repository of rare Guru Granth Sahib manuscripts including copy of the Kartarpuri Bir transcribed by Sodhi Sadhu Singh for presentation to Queen Victoria. The catalogues of Dr. J. F. Blumhardt and Dr. C. Shackel, also mention about some very valuable Guru Granth Sahib Birs in U.K.

While a large number of Guru Granth Sahib manuscripts, including some very rare ones such as the Kartarpuri Bir prepared under the direct supervision of Guru Arjan Dev, the Damdami Bir prepared under the direct supervision of Guru Gobind Singh and other copies with Mool Mantra inscribed in the hands of the Gurus are available, no comprehensive catalogue or any such account of the Guru Granth Sahib manuscripts was prepared and kept under the control of Akal Takhat or any other central Sikh authority. As a result, with the passage of time some of the rare Guru Granth Sahib Birs have either changed hands or simply disappeared. No one knows the fate of the first five copies of the Damdami Bir prepared by Baba Deep Singh and sent to different Takhats. Similarly one does not know for sure which is the Guru Granth manuscript, that was bestowed Guruship by Guru Gobind Singh before his death at Hazur Sahib, Nanded, in 1708 A.D.

While it is difficult to guess the exact number of Guru Granth Sahib manuscripts presently available whether copied from Kartarpuri, Banno or Damdami Birs, there are scholars who have tried to locate them and have worked on different Birs available with different institutions and individuals. A careful study of the works of these scholars shows that many of the rare manuscripts quoted in G. B. Singh's Sri Guru Granth Sahib Dian Prachin Biran, published in 1944, are not traceable. With a view to creating awareness for the conservation of this precious tangible heritage of the Sikh community, the National Institute of Panjab Studies took up a major project of "Locating, Cataloguing and Digitizing rare Guru Granth Sahib Manuscripts" in different parts of India and abroad. In the course of our fieldwork we have been able to locate, catalogue and digitise nearly three hundred rare Guru Granth Sahib Birs in collaboration with Professor Sahib Singh Trust, for which we record our obligation to Prof. Manjit Singh and other trustees. In order to share the benefit of our field work with interested scholars, we have decided to bring out "Shabad Guru: Illustrated Catalogue of Rare Guru Granth Sahib Manuscripts" in four volumes giving basic information about rare Guru Granth Sahib manuscripts at home and abroad. This Catalogue carries historical details of available Guru Granth Sahib manuscripts along with reproduction of the Mool Mantra and some pages of the manuscripts providing rare glimpses of sacred heritage of the Sikh community.

For the field work and publication of the catalogue we got financial support from the National Mission for Manuscripts and the Delhi Sikh Gurdwara Management Committee, New Delhi, which we gratefully acknowledge. We also wish to acknowledge the cooperation we received from the Shiromani Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee; Chief Khalsa Diwan; Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar; Punjabi University, Patiala; Panjab University, Chandigarh; Takhat Sri Harimandir Sahib, Patna; Takhat Sri Hazur Sahib, Nanded; Panjab Languages Department, Patiala; Panjab State Archives, Chandigarh and Bhai Vir Singh Sahitya Sadan, New Delhi and other institutions and individuals who allowed us access to their collections.

We wish to record our gratitude to Dr.J.S.Neki, who has been a source of encouragement and support in the planning and execution of this project; to friends in different parts of India and abroad and to Dr.Navneet Kaur, Raghbir Singh, Deepak Sachdev and other colleagues in the Institute and the Sadan for their inputs to the project.

Title : Sri Guru Granth Sahib

Samvat/Year: Not available

This Guru Granth Sahib manuscript is placed at Museum, Punjabi University, Patiala, Punjab.

The size of this manuscript is 10.5"/13.6". The tatkara has 40 folios with 21 lines and 2 columns on a page.

Bani of Japuji Sahib has been written on 12 unnumbered folios, but the next folio has been numbered 8. Paath ends on folio no. 942. This brings the folio count of Paath to 947. In general there are 15 lines on a page of Paath, but at places there is variation in the number of lines due to decorative designing on different pages. Every page has double border. The inner border is a bit wide and decorated with colour. Writing is in black ink. Handwriting is beautiful. The manuscript is in good condition. After tatkara, there is one blank folio after which there are 12 unnumbered folios containing the Bani of Japuji Sahib. These folios are highly decorated in Kangra style of painting. Third folio has Bani written on both its pages. The remaining eleven folios have writing only on one side of their respective page, the other side having been left blank. Decorative designing has also been done before the Bani of every new Raag. The text ends with Raagmala after which Siahi ki bidhi has been explained. The remaining portion of this last page has again been decorated in Kangra style of painting.

This Guru Granth Sahib manuscript is placed at Kuthala, Sangrur, Punjab.

Paath starts on folio 2 and runs up to folio 748. There are 13 lines on a page of Paath in general. Tatkara has 33 folios. There are 26 lines and 2 columns on a page of tatkara.

There is wide page border all through the manuscript. First page of the manuscript has been beautifully designed with an invocation to Guru Granth Sahib, asking for and seeking blessings. But this page does not seem to be part of the original manuscript. It seems to have been pasted later. Paath starts on folio 2 which has been beautifully decorated. Text on this page has been written primarily in golden colour. After that, three more pages have been designed with wide page border. The pages on which new Raag starts, have been especially decorated with Moolmantar having been written within a colourful frame. Folio 742 to 748 have been written afresh in the pattern of the general writing of this manuscript and affixed to the manuscript. Text ends with Raagmala. Siahi ki bidhi has not been explained. Challitter joti jot samavna has not been given.

This Bir is a part of the digitized collection with the National Institute of Panjab Studies, Bhai Vir Singh Sahitya Sadan, New Delhi.
